

skincare company website content

Our Story

More than 10 years ago, Lé NiVan's creator and founder, John, visited Vanuatu for the first time. The stunning landscapes, welcoming people and sense of community encouraged him to immerse himself in the local culture and way of life. From his early experiences, John knew that Vanuatu was special and wanted to share its beauty with others.

His appreciation for the Island and its people prompted him to set up and construct a magnificent 5 Star Resort in Port Vila, Vanuatu's capital city. He worked closely with locals to ensure his guests had an authentic experience of Vanuatu. This included using natural, local products in the Resort Spa. Through this experience, John was introduced to Nangai and Tamanu oil. He learned that the oils were used for over 200 years and were trusted by locals for their healing properties and variety of purposes.

The benefits of Tamanu and Nangai oil became obvious and John began to transport the oils home for his Melbourne-based friends and family to try. They quickly recognised the power of these oils and requested more. Soon, guests, family and friends across Australia were asking John how to access the products. This appreciation for the natural products of Vanuatu and the demand from Australian residents who understood and experienced the benefits of the oils resulted in the creation of Lé Ni Van.

John proudly distributes Tamanu and Nangai oil to Australia and the world, allowing people everywhere to experience their benefits, while supporting the people and economy of Vanuatu. His dedication to ensuring their purity and authenticity is unwavering.

John's involvement and connection to Vanuatu remain strong. In addition to distributing oils for Lé NiVan, he works passionately to see more frequent trade from Vanuatu. This work has seen him elected on a Trade Commission to stimulate trade with other countries, including Australia. His important work supports the community, creating jobs and supporting local families. John's commitment to Vanuatu has also led to him donating to local schools and creating opportunities for indigenous locals to visit Australia.

Based out of Port Vila, now as a valuable community member, John continues to support and contribute to the growth and development of Vanuatu. Now, thanks to Lé NiVan, you can access the luxury natural oils used and loved by the people of Vanuatu for centuries.

About

Based in Vanuatu and distributing products across Australia, Lé NiVan is a leading provider of responsibly sourced, natural skin care products. They are independently owned and operated and work closely with their sustainable manufacturers who are located on Malekula, the second largest island of Vanuatu.

In addition to selling the pure oils directly to Australian customers, Lé NiVan is a major supplier to various cosmetic companies. They harness the power of Tamanu and Nangai Oil as ingredients in a range of products.